

WRIGLEYS
— SOLICITORS —

Farms & Estates

Wrigleys advises well over 100 landed estates,
as well as many farmers and other landowners,
on a very diverse range of matters

Asset Protection, Tax Planning & Succession

Our main aim is to help clients preserve family landholdings, which have often been held for many generations.

With our combined expertise in niche areas of tax, trust, property and agricultural law, we guide clients through the process of handing ownership and control of a farm or estate on to the next generation.

Our advice covers the law and tax regime, yet is mindful of the practical and commercial considerations of owning and running farms and estates.

Land & Rural Business

Wrigleys' experienced team of agricultural solicitors works closely with tax colleagues to advise on all rural property related matters including the strategic considerations of buying, selling, owning and working land.

Experience

Wrigleys' Farms & Estates team numbers over 30 partners and solicitors across the private client and property departments. The team is led by individuals ranked in the top tier of the main legal directories, Legal 500 and Chambers & Partners.

Professional contacts

Wrigleys has excellent relationships with other professionals specialising in advising farmers and landowners. Our network helps us to work proactively for clients, identify opportunities and bring our extensive experience to bear.

"Very good private client lawyers, especially for landed estates, where they have a tremendous depth of expertise and experience"
