Under The Consumer Contracts (Information, Cancellation and Additional Charges) Regulations 2013 (Regulations), if you are instructing Wrigleys Solicitors LLP as a consumer for a personal matter (as opposed to in relation to your trade, business, craft or profession) and you have entered into a contract with us either at a distance or off our premises, then you may have a right to cancel that contract as follows:

Right to Cancel

If the Regulations apply to you, you have the right to cancel the contract within 14 days of agreeing to commence the contract (known as 'the conclusion of the contract') without giving any reason.

The cancellation period will expire after 14 days from the date of the conclusion of the contract

To exercise the right to cancel, you must inform Wrigleys Solicitors LLP of your decision to cancel the contract by a clear statement (for example by a letter sent by post, fax or email). You may use the model cancellation form overleaf, although use of this form is not obligatory.

To meet the cancellation deadline, it is sufficient for you to send your communication concerning your exercise of the right to cancel before the cancellation period has expired.

Effects of Cancellation

If you requested that we should begin to provide services during the 14 day cancellation period, you will pay Wrigleys Solicitors LLP that part of the agreed fee which is proportionate to those of the envisaged services which have actually been performed until receipt of your cancellation. If you have made a request to begin the performance of services, you have no right to cancel after the services have been completed.
